Name of Public Authority: The Department of Parks

Introduction:

The purpose of the Public Access to Information Act 2010 is to:

a) Give the public the right to obtain access to information held by public authorities to the greatest extent possible, subject to exceptions that are in the public interest or for the protection of the rights of others;
b) Increase transparency, and eliminate unnecessary secrecy, with regard to information held by public authorities;
c) Increase accountability of public authorities;
d) Inform the public about the activities of public authorities, including the manner in which they make decisions; and
e) Have more information placed in the public domain as a matter of routine.

This Act commits the Department of Parks to making information available to the public as part of its normal business activities. Through this commitment, the Department of Parks will aim to make the workings within the Department accessible and available to the public as part of its normal business activities.

The Department of Parks will:

- Specify the information held by the Department, which falls within the purview.
- Make routinely available information which is held by the Department.
- Describe the methods by which specific information is made available, so that it can be easily identified and accessed by members of the Public.
- List any fees charged for the access to information described in this scheme
- Regularly review and update the information made available.

The Department of Parks will generally not publish:

- Information in draft form
- Information that is not held by the Department of Parks, or which has been disposed of in accordance with a legally authorized disposal schedule

- Information that is not readily available – for example; information that is contained in files that have been placed in archive storage, or is otherwise difficult to access

- Information which is exempt under the PATI Act 2010, or otherwise protected from disclosure – for example; personal information; information likely to endanger the safety or health of individual, information received in confidence, Cabinet documents or commercially sensitive information. Please refer to Public Access to Information Act, 2010.

- Records containing exempt matter will be published in a redacted form wherever it is practical to do so, indicating which exemptions apply. (I would like to cut and paste relevant information into a separate document and make that available to the public).

In maintaining this information document our aim is to be as open as possible. However, there may be limited circumstances where information will be withheld from one of the categories of information listed:

Information will only be withheld where the PATI Act, 2010 expressly mandates it. For example:
Where disclosure would breach the law of confidentiality, infringe personal privacy, harm the Department of Parks, or another organization’s commercial interest, or endanger the protection of the environment.

Whenever information is withheld, we will inform you of this and explain why that information cannot be released. Even where information is withheld, it may be possible to provide a redacted copy, with the exempt matter edited out.

Department of Parks Organization and Staffing

Legislation

The National Parks Act, 1986
The National Parks Regulations, 1988

Section B: 1) Functions, powers, duties of the Authority \( [s5(1)b] \)

The Department of Parks is a statutory body governed under the Bermuda National Parks Act, 1986. The Department of Parks is tasked with the responsibility of managing and administering the National Parks System for Bermuda. This system comprises different kinds of protected areas which are to be managed according to the National Parks Act 1986. The protected areas are to be managed in a manner that protects, maintains and enhances the natural and historic values of the protected areas for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations; and to regulate the use of such protected areas so as to ensure that the environmental, social and economic benefits deriving from the areas are sustained. The National Parks Regulations 1988 are enforced by Officers of the Department of Parks. We are in the process of updating the National Parks Act and Regulations and anticipate that the amended Act will be in force by 2015, and the amended Regulations by 2015.

Key Activities:

- Maintain and manage all National Parks to the specified standards
- Maintain all other designated areas of responsibility to specified standards
- Provide a trained and professional Lifeguard service at 5 public beaches
- Protect and preserve Open Spaces for present and future generations
- Enforce Park Regulations under the Bermuda National Parks Act, 1986
- Manage cultural and natural resources within the National Parks system
- Produce the Annual Agricultural Exhibition
- Administration
- Park Rangers (patrol Parks and Nature Reserves) and Lifeguards
- Landscape Maintenance
- Planning

Section I: Any Other Information To be Provided? [s5(1)i]

National Parks Commission (NPC)

The National Parks Act mandates the formation of a body called the National Parks Commission. Subject to the Act, the primary function of the Commission is to advise the Minister on matters affecting the long-term conservation and management of the System.

As per the National Parks Act, 1986, the National Parks Commission is made up of 12 members of whom, the Director (and Assistant Director) are ex-officio members. Ten members shall be appointed by the Minister as follows: one representative from the following organisations: the Bermuda National Trust, the Bermuda Audubon Society, the Bermuda Maritime Museum Association, and the Bermuda Zoological Society. The other members must be comprised of members whom possess expertise in environmental protection and conservation of natural and historical resources; two members of the general public who may be considered by the Minister to have a sufficient interest in historical, environmental and conservation matters; and two members who are users of the system.

The functions of the Commission shall include:

1. The periodic review of the National Parks Plan and providing advice and comments thereon as needed, in the opinion of the Commission to ensure that the plan is current and responsive to the policies and objectives of this Act;

2. Making recommendations to the Minister regarding any matter affecting protected areas within the scope of its functions, including recommendations on areas of priority for acquisition as protected areas and on amendments to the First Schedule;

3. Advising the Minister on any proposal to change the boundaries, use, classification or any other aspect of an existing protected area including the making of recommendations as to whether such change enhances or diminishes the conservation policies and objectives for the area;

4. Reviewing any draft or final management plan for a protected area specified in the First Schedule, and making recommendations to the Minister as to the adequacy of any such plan;

5. Undertaking activities to promote public awareness and education in matters relating to protected areas through seminars, public events, publications and other appropriate means;
6. Coordinating and exchanging information on protected areas and related matters within government and non-government organizations;

7. Establishing sub-committees and other formal and informal arrangements with other bodies, to use such expertise and services as may be available to enable the commission to perform functions under the National Parks Act, 1986;

8. Exercising such other functions and powers as may be conferred upon it by the National Parks Act or any regulations made thereunder.

The meetings of the National Parks Commission are generally held on the third Tuesday of each month, and may also involve additional meetings or site visits as required.

The Constitution for the National Parks Commission may be found in the National Parks Act, 1986, (Third Schedule).
